On Sunday morning, August 1st, some 6000 citizen-soldiers of Indiana's 38th Infantry Division, Indiana Army National Guard, will begin to arrive at Camp Grayling, Michigan, for a two-week active duty training period. The Indiana Guardsmen will be joined by approximately 1000 Army Reservists from Indiana and Michigan. The Reservists will be assigned to appropriate units and duty positions in the 38th Division for training purposes.

MOST OF THE units of Indiana's "Cyclone Division" will set up overnight bivouac sites in southern Michigan on their way to Camp Grayling. The movement of the 1100 military vehicles used in this motor-march will be controlled by a pre-determined schedule of check points, staggered arrival times, and an air-ground communications network.

Two major units of the 38th Infantry Division have already completed their annual field training and will not be included in the main body of the 38th which arrives on Sunday. The 1st Brigade trained earlier at Camp Grayling, June 12-27. At the same time, the 3rd Brigade was airlifted to Puerto Rico for its active duty training. Each brigade has 1500 Guardsmen.

As in past years, the 38th Division will conduct a Division Review on Saturday, August 7th. The Governor of Indiana, Roger D. Branigan, and other Indiana dignitaries have been invited to review the parade and ceremonies. The public is cordially invited to attend this colorful event.

The 38th Infantry Division has a new Commanding General. He is Major General Noble F. Schlatter. General Schlatter enlisted in the Indiana Army National Guard as a Private in 1937. He served as an Infantry officer with the 38th Division in World War II. His decorations include the Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster; the Combat Infantryman's Badge; Presidential Unit Citation; Philippine Presidential Citation; and the Southwest Pacific Campaign Ribbon with three campaign stars.

General Schlatter, who assumed command of the 38th Division in September, 1964, lives with his wife and four children in Ft. Wayne, Indiana, where he practices law.

Over 2,000 Michigan National Guardsmen, mostly members of armored units, will be moving back into camp on Thursday and getting ready for their homeward trip all day Friday with departures starting early on Saturday morning.

These Michigan National Guard units did not come into Camp Grayling for their annual field training until one week later than the Division. They arrived here on Saturday, July 17, in time to take part in the Division Review and Memorial Services on Sunday, July 18.

The entire body of "Iron Fist" citizens soldiers will have cleared both the camp area and the Grayling McNamara Air Base on Saturday prior to the arrival of the Indiana Guardsmen on Sunday.

Richard Burger followed for the third place position in this flight.

In the meantime the 1965 men's handicap tournament entered its first round this week and the first 18 holes will be played. THE OTHER pair of the four were taken into custody by the Michigan State Police on the North Downriver Road near the expressway. They were picked up just two hours later at 12:45 a. m. They were William-Frank Nutt, 17, of Bay City and Darrell Charles McDowell, 16, of Pontiac.

Award Roadside Spraying Contracts
LANSING — The State Highway Department today announced low bidders on two roadside control projects in seven counties.

Low bidder on a chemical weed spraying project in Crawford and Otsego counties was the Davey Tree Expert Company of Kent, Ohio, with a bid of $5,310.

Both projects were previously scheduled for bid letting of July 7, but were postponed because of last minute technical changes in specifications.

Completion date for both projects is October of this year.

Michigan Couple's Note to Stevenson Found on His Desk
An unusual incident involving a member of the staff of Congressman Elford A. Cedersberg was reported in press dispatches from the U. S. regarding the death of Adlai Stevenson, U. S. Representative to the United Nations.

When officials of the U. S. Mission went to the council chamber to take charge of Stevenson's papers after his death, they found on top of his desk a note reading "Greetings Mr. Stevenson. Hold that line." It was signed by William H. Hackett, Administrative Assistant to Congressman Cedersberg. Mr. and Mrs. Hackett had visited the United Nations a week before Stevenson's death and since the council was not in session were privileged to sit in his seat. It was then they wrote the note found by officials of the Mission and reported in the press.

Crawford County Tourist Information
Huckleberry picking is in its prime in all areas of the county. Day canoeing and canoe camping are excellent forms of recreation these beautiful summer days. The opportunity to observe the area's birdlife and wildlife on these trips is unequalled. Deer and fawns can be seen on all county roads in evening hours. NOTICE
Mr. Basil Godbold, Intermediate Superintendent of Schools announced today that personnel for the Special Education program needed in our four county area for the coming school year will be rather difficult to procure as most teaching personnel have already signed their contracts at this time of year.

New Owners at Lozon Store

The R. J. Lozon store in Frederic has been sold to Mitchell and Susie Thompson of Frederic. Former owners Mr. and Robert Lozon are planning to spend the rest of the summer at their cottage on the Blind River in Canada, and their daughter Anita, who has had an active part in the store for around fifteen of the twenty years the Lozons have owned it, plans to make a trip to California when the weather turns cooler in the fall.

Mr. Lozon purchased the store in June of 1946 from Ace Leng, for whom he had previously clerked for fifteen years. The Lengs were owners for twenty-one years, building the cement block addition in 1937. They had purchased it from Emmett Lewis, who built the corner addition in 1914. The store's founder, W. T. Lewis, built the original building, which is now in the rear of the store.

Grayling Fly Casters Win At Mio Fete
A team of five Grayling fishermen won the fly-casting contest at the Sixth Annual Great Lakes Forestry Exposition at Mio last weekend before an estimated 20,000 eager spectators. Making up the Grayling team were Clarence Roberts, Arnold Hubbell, Jack Pettijohn, Doug Burley and Phil Miller.

TERMED AS one of the most successful shows to date, President J. K. Adams says that exposition officials are jubilant and are already proposing plans for a bigger and better show next year.

Highlights of the affair, which is termed Michigan's most exciting outdoor show and the biggest forestry and logging show in the Lake States, included exhibition of a million dollars worth of the world's finest forestry, logging and fire-fighting equipment.

Minor Boys Caught Red-Handed
Saturday, July 24th, two 14-year-old boys with BB guns were caught shooting a hole in the picture window at Club Thunderbird on the AuSable. They had not only to face the manager of the club but also their father and the sheriff. It was agreed by the father that he would pay for the picture window, which will cost in the neighborhood of $500 or more.

It is too bad that children aren't warned not to take guns in their boats, as there have been reported dead muskrats, ducks, other animals and birds—allegedly illegally killed by 22 and BB gun canoeists. Not only that, but other property owners have had windows shot out when they were away from home and could not have proof of who did it.

Schnipke Named New Guard A. G.

In ceremonies at the Grayling-McNamara Air Base last Thursday morning, Colonel Clarence C. Schnipke who has been the Acting Adjutant General for the State of Michigan, was appointed to the post by Governor George Romney.

The new Adjutant General was also given two stars and raised to the rank of Major General. The appointment took immediate effect. Schnipke has filled the post on a temporary basis by appointment by the Governor since the removal of Major General Ronald D. McDonald.

SCHNIPKE, who served in the temporary post since last October 8, was previously assistant adjutant general for Army units.

"My decision in favor of Colonel Schnipke is based on many factors, only one of which was his excellent performance in a temporary capacity during an extremely difficult period," Romney said.

Schnipke, faces reorganization problems in the coming months, Romney said.

Ten County Students Qualify For Scholarships
Ten students from Crawford County qualified for scholarships under the newly expanded State Scholarship Program Senator Guy Vander Jagt, (R) Cadillac, announced this week in Lansing.

"Ten out of twenty-two Crawford County students who took the examinations met the academic requirements. This high percentage of successful applicants is a tribute to the high standards of the school systems of Crawford County," Senator Vander Jagt said.

"As a matter of fact," commented Vander Jagt, "the high schools throughout Northern Michigan did extraordinarily well. For example, the fifteen counties of the 36th Senatorial District with only 2 1/2% of the state's population received 13% of the 2,842 scholarships awarded this year under the State Scholarship Program. This fantastic record which percentage-wise gives us 4 1/2 times as many successful scholarship applicants as the rest of the State certainly reflects the high quality of educational systems in Northern Michigan and should be a source of pride to all of our citizens," Senator Vander Jagt said.

Andy Devine To Star At Houghton Lake Playhouse
Andy Devine—the famous "Jingling"—will appear in person at the Houghton Lake Playhouse from August 5 to August 8, starring in Paul Osborn's fanciful comedy "On Borrowed Time."

A veteran of 40 years in show business, Andy Devine got his start when he hitchhiked a ride with a casting director at Universal Studios in Hollywood. He was signed to play a part in "The Collegians." Mr. Devine stayed at Universal for 20 years and made more than 300 motion pictures; and in the process, he became something of a legend.

To millions of people all over the world, Andy Devine is the lovable sidekick, Jingles, from television's long-run series "Wild Bill Hickok" which he starred in for 7 years. But for many years before that, radio fans enjoyed his gravelly voice and charming humor on such shows as "The Jack Benny Radio Show," "Lum and Abner," and "The Fitch Bandwagon."

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zettle are holding an open house Saturday evening, July 31, from 7:30 p.m. at the G. E. Township Hall, Roscommon, honoring their parents on their 50th wedding anniversary. A warm invitation is extended to all.

Range Fire Hits 2,000 Acres Down River

An estimated two thousand acres in four sections on the Tank Range of the Michigan National Guard Military Reservation east of the AuSable East Branch and west of the Stephan Bridge Road burned in the past week. Small fires started on Tuesday in the impact area and little attempt was made to stop them as they remained small.

On Saturday, however, a strong northwest wind fanned one of the blazes into action which burned east to the Fire Tower Road, where it was finally controlled by Guard personnel detailed for the work and by equipment from Camp Grayling. On Sunday the wind again picked up a blaze and spread it from the Tower Road in an easterly direction. Backfires were set by the Guard along the Stephan Bridge Road from the Fire Tower ridge to Kyle Lake and back west to the main fire, which had burned to meet the backfire by 5:30 Sunday evening. The dense smoke from the wooded slopes which the fires traversed filled the AuSable River valley and carried clear across the county.

Monday the westerly wind was still brisk, and it caused spotted flareups along the Stephan Road backfire line, which occasionally jumped the road, and also burned to within a quarter mile of the North Down River Road. At 1:40 Monday afternoon the Grayling Fire Department was called out for standby duty at this spot.

The City Fire Department was called on standby duty at this fire Tuesday noon to protect endangered homes, as high winds continued. A separate fire three miles north of the main fire started up, still in the military range, Monday, and equipment from the Conservation Department was called in to control this one, which burned an estimated one acre. The Department had a man in the Down River Tower all day Monday, and at 5 p. m. he spotted still another fire in Section 14, T 28 Range 3, to which Conservation equipment was dispatched as it became available. A broken gasoline line on one pumper unit caused the truck to catch fire resulting in severe damage to the unit. This fire was under control by 7 p. m., burning over between 50 and 60 acres.

A GRASS FIRE of unknown origin was reported to the Conservation Department, Equipment Station at 2:05 Sunday afternoon, located a mile west of Stephan Bridge Road and north of M-72. Two units from the Department and the City fire truck were called out and had the fire under control in short order, keeping the area damaged to one-half acre.

A muck fire near the Manistee River three miles downstream from the M-72 bridge, on the south east side of the river in Kalkaska County, was reported to the Conservation Department at 5 p.m. Sunday afternoon. Equipment from Kalkaska was covering the fire, but additional manpower from Crawford County had been called in on Monday and Tuesday.

Grayling Guild Night Set for Playhouse
Friday, July 30th, has been designated as Grayling Guild Night at the Houghton Lake Playhouse, and it is hoped that many local people will make this an opportunity to visit the Houghton Lake Playhouse. The program this evening will be Jill Haworth starring in the long-run London smash hit "See How They Run". We caution you to call for your reservations in advance. After the performance, the Grayling Guild will serve coffee and cookies to the cast and to any visitors and friends of the Playhouse.

Miss Mary Ann Horning and Mr. Terry A. Maurer exchanged wedding vows at St. Mary's Student Chapel in Ann Arbor at 1 o'clock on July 10, 1965, before two hundred fifty guests. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Thomas G. Litka. Miss Elaine Hoener, soloist, sang the "Ave Maria". Mary Ann is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Horning of Chelsea. Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Maurer of Four Mile Road, Grayling.

A cotton gown of cloud white organza over tulle was the bride's choice for her wedding. The bodice was fashioned of rows of Venice lace ribbon, with scoop neck and elbow-length sleeves. The very full skirt, ending in a chapel train, was caught with a wide band of organza at the waist ending with a large bow in back. Her bouffant veil of imported silk illusion was held by a small organza pillbox.

Miss Judy Goetze was maid of honor, Miss Jill Owens and Miss Anna Delage were bridesmaids. They were attired alike in floor-length sleeveless Empire gowns. The bridesmaids wore moss green silk brocade with shallow scoop necklines, the skirts were mortar white controlled sheaths of silk crepe. A back panel of moss green brocade from center back neckline was headed by a flat Dior bow. Matching moss green brocade pillboxes with circlet veils completed their attire. Their flowers were orange and white carnations with ribbons streamers. The Misses Cindy Barais and Lisa Magesse were flower girls.

Attending the groom were his brother, Tony Maurer of Grayling, Lance Nelson, Ann Arbor, Lauren Miller, Manchester, Louis Maurer, Grayling, also a brother, and Dale Horning, brother of the bride, Chelsea.

Mrs. Horning chose a two-piece royal blue gird dress for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Maurer wore beige.

A four o'clock reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Manchester. Afterwards the newlyweds left for Ann Arbor on a week's honeymoon. The bride's ensemble was a pink three-piece suit with white accessories.

Mrs. Maurer is a Chelsea High School graduate, also a graduate of the Alexandra Beauty School at Ann Arbor. Mr. Maurer graduated from St. Joseph's High in Holy Trinity, Alabama, Northwestern College, Traverse City, and is a student at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor. He is presently employed by the Detroit-Edison Company in Ann Arbor.

Grandiose Project . . .

The lead article in the May issue of The Atlantic carries the startling title "The Plot to Drown Alaska". Written by Paul Brooks, an author, editor and conservationist of note, it deals with what must be one of the most grandiose projects ever devised by the mind of man. If Mr. Brooks is correct, and his article marshals an extremely impressive array of facts and opinions, irreparable destruction would be done in our 50th state.

The proposed project — which would be undertaken by the Army Corps of Engineers — is the damming of the Yukon River in east central Alaska. The dam would be known as Rampart. And the very magnitude of the scheme literally staggers the imagination.

The dam, writes Mr. Brooks, would, incredible as it may seem, create a lake with a surface area greater than New Jersey. It would take 20 years to fill. The lowest estimate of the cost is one and a third billion dollars. So far, engineering surveys have been made at a cost of over a million dollars. What happens next, if anything, is up to Congress.

The dam has many strong advocates, some in very influential positions. The primary claim is that it would produce vast quantities of hydroelectric power at very low rates and that this would prove a compelling attraction to various industries, notably aluminum. Further, it is argued that the way would be open to massive mineral and timber development, and that recreational values would be enhanced.

Mr. Brooks is more than doubtful about all this. He — as do many others — feel that there is neither an existing nor potential market for the power. Moreover, nuclear power might make Rampart obsolete before it was even built. The economic problems in Alaska so far as industry is concerned, he says, are extremely high labor rates and transportation costs. And he finds that the lake, which would be on the Arctic Circle, would for a variety of reasons be about useless for recreation.

But Mr. Brooks' most impassioned argument is based on what, as he sees it, Rampart would do to Alaska's matchless wildlife resources. He describes at length a trip through the area that would be affected. It is alive with moose, ducks, and salmon. He quotes an official report on Rampart made by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in which this is said: "Nowhere in the history of water development in North America have the fish and wildlife losses anticipated to result from a single project been so overwhelming." The Service concluded: "We strongly oppose authorization of the Rampart Canyon Dam and Reservoir project."

Mr. Brooks goes into much detail in presenting his case. He refutes the claim of Rampart supporters that wildlife could go elsewhere — for instance, he states that other breeding areas for ducks are now used to capacity. At the end he writes: "The very magnitude of the project brings home the terrible responsibility that goes with the possession of limitless technical means for controlling nature . . . Before the dirt begins to fly, we have to face the unavoidable question: how far does a financial speculation like Rampart Dam justify us in permanently changing the face of the earth?"

Interesting Items of News Gathered From the Files of the Avalanche of 23 Years Ago.

JULY 30, 1942

Five companies of Michigan State Troops visited Grayling last week for practice training and to make plans for future training. There were 100 men and 12 officers in the group. While at the camp the troops occupied several mess-halls and for shelter they bunked in the new motor supply buildings.

Efforts to organize the quarter-master company of the Michigan State Troops is still going on. Ernest Larson, who is lieutenant, is in charge of the recruiting. Here is a fine chance for local people to have an all-local State Troops company.

The eighteenth annual reunion of the Head-Davis families was held at the Higgins Lake State park Sunday, July 28th. The day was ideal and fifty were present to enjoy the potluck dinner together. Elmer Head is the only living member of the original Head family. There are nearly one hundred descendants scattered throughout the states. Several of our boys are serving their country. The latest to go are Roy Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hartman, and Billy LaChapelle, son of Mrs. Cecile Church. L. J. Dusenbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dusenbury, has enlisted in the Army Reserves. There were twenty-two youngsters present under the age of 18.

The bride-elect was graduated from Miss Newman's School and attended Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame. Mr. Wilson, who is attending officers' candidate school at Miami Beach, Florida, was graduated from the University of Notre Dame and attended Harvard School of Business Administration. iting Mr. Hall and brothers and sisters. Jack secured employment until school begins.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Longdyke and children, Harold Frank and Mary Mina, left for Detroit Sunday after spending a short vacation at The Dream Cabin. The Longdykes got their limit of bluegills and rock bass at K. P. Lake and Mr. Longdyke lured some nice trout out of the AuSable.

A stiff wind storm, accompanied by heavy rain Sunday afternoon caused considerable excitement. No serious damage was done, however, a few trees lost branches galore, and the streets were so flooded with water that in some places the storm sewers were unable to carry it off. At Camp Grayling some of the soldiers lost their tents. "Served them right," were some of the comments of officers. "It wouldn't have happened if they had properly been fastened." Rain this summer is just about the most plentiful thing we are having.

Miss Mary Cutsall of Washington, D. C., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jappe Smith for the summer. Miss Cutsall is a niece of Mrs. Smith.

Some twenty members of the Free Methodist church gathered at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Vallad Tuesday evening for a farewell party in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Orville Lee, who will be leaving to attend church conference in August and will not be returning to Grayling. The Lees have many friends in Grayling who will be sorry to see them go.

Moose Lodge Activities

Our most sincere sympathies go out to the family of Brother Hugo Siewert, whom our Maker has called on to go to the promised land. He will be greatly missed by his many friends at the lodge, and in our defending circle. The lodge held candlelight ceremonies for Bro. Siewert Monday evening.

On the brighter side, the Lodge wishes to express its sincere thanks to the businessmen and merchants who helped us with the recent Hollywood Stage Show that was held at the high school gym Tuesday evening. We would like to print their names here, but the response was so fantastic, the space it would take would be too great.

Saturday evening the lodge held a very impressive Enrollment, at the American Legion Hall, with the Degree work done by the Windsor, Ont., Drill and Degree teams. The Enrollment was in honor of the state officers, who were present, and held a state executive meeting at the lodge on Sunday.

At the Enrollment, state director, Harold Kretzinger presented to the new Deputy Supreme Governor for Michigan, Bob Dunn, his commission. He also announced that the Grayling lodge not only was the first in the state to reach its membership quota, but was also second in the state for reaching the most quotas, with four.

At the executive meeting Mr. Kretzinger announced that National and state officers were pleased with the caliber of new members that were being admitted, along with their fast and continuous growth.

Every lodge in the state was represented at Grayling over the weekend. Some more state-wide projects are in the planning also, some of which may take more than one weekend to complete.

This Sunday is our monthly legion of the Moose Club Breakfast meeting, at 11:00 a.m. at the lodge. In the afternoon is a District meeting at 2:00 p.m.

This Friday evening at 8:00 p.m. is regular meeting night at the lodge. District Vice-President Bill Fitzgerald, will give a report of the Executive Boards meeting that was held Sunday. He has some important announcements that must be made.

These are the children and grand children of Mr. and Mrs. John Canfield, Jr., of Grayling.

Everyone had a fine time, some went bathing and others played ball, and some just sat and visited. A potluck lunch was enjoyed and the day as well, although it was chilly and rained during the day.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE — The following letter from the Mayor of Grayling to the Grayling Fire Department should be of interest to our readers.

July 27, 1965
To the Chief, Assistant Chief and all the firemen of the Grayling Volunteer Department.
Gentlemen:

The City Council of the City of Grayling wish to express their appreciation for your effort in producing the fine fourth of July celebration.

The City Council, as well as the citizens of Grayling, are very proud of their Fire Department, and of their untiring efforts to promote good will, as well as entertainment for their people they so ardently serve.

Grayling is very fortunate to have such a fine group of fellows such as you all are. Very few towns in this northern area can boast of such a fine organization. Men who volunteer to serve their community, as firemen, are commendable and deserve great respect from all the people.

So thanks again, fellows, for your very great effort.
Sincerely,
J. F. Cook
